ASSEMBLY CONVENTION.

SECOND DISTRICT.

A Republican Convention of the Second Assembly District, in the county of Rock, composed of the city of Janesville, and the towns of Janesville and Rock, is hereby called to meet at the Common Council room, in the city of Janesville on Friday, the 9th day of August, 1878, at 7 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of appointing two delegates to represent said district, in the Convention to be held at Elkhorn, on the 13th day of August, 1878, to nominate a candidate for member of Congress, and transact such other business as may properly come before the Convention. The wards and towns comprising said Assembly District, are entitled to the same representation as in the last Assembly Convention as follows:

First ward, City of Janesville.....6
Second ward, " " 5
Third ward, " " 5
Fourth ward, " " 6
Fifth ward, " " 3

The amount of last year's wheat in the elevators in the States and Canada on the 27th of July, reached 5,686,000 bushels.

Eugene Hale, of Maine, has been renominated for Congress. His record was so unanimously endorsed that his nomination was made by acclamation.

Hendricks thinks that Grant will be the Republican candidate for President in 1880. It is morally certain that Hendricks will not be the Democratic candidate, notwithstanding his bids for the nomination.

Dennis Kearney's description of Ben Butler, as given in his Boston speech on Monday night, is in these words: "I feel like bringing a message of greeting and love to the man who is lesser than Macbeth, yet greater—to that fiery and incomparable Rupert of debate—to that white-plumed Navarre of the rostrum, the gallant, gifted, glorious Butler." Now let us see what Ben will say about Dennis.

Several hundred shoemakers struck for higher wages in Chicago on Tuesday. They demanded an increase of 33 per cent. on their wages, and the various firms offered to compromise at 16, but the workmen would not yield. The strikers say they will not work for $10.50 a week, and the manufacturers are equally determined not to pay more, because the condition of trade will not warrant it. The firms will now supply the trade with goods made in the East, and hence the workmen will be left without work. In this case, as in all others, the strikers will be the greatest losers.

The Republican Congressional Convention for the Oshkosh District, will be held in that city on the 10th of September. It now appears that Mr. D. M. Kelly, of Green Bay, will be the nominee. He is a young man of considerable influence and business tact, and will make a good member. The Sixth District was formerly strongly Republican but the mistake made four year's ago in nominating Kimball, disorganized the Republicans, and his renomination in 1876, gave the Democrats the District by 2,776 majority. Bouck will be renominated and it will require harmony in the party and a strong candidate to defeat the Democrats.

If any one doubts that the South had the lion's share of government patronage before the war, let them read this astonishing but true statement, made by John A. Logan, in his recent speech at Vandalid, Illinois:

What did the south do before the war, with a backing of but one-third of the population of the country? They held the presidential chair 60 years out of the 81 previous to 1861; they had 18 judges of the Supreme Court to 11 for the north; they had 24 presidents pro tem. of the Senate out of 35; 23 speakers out of 35; 14 attorney generals out of 19, and 86 foreign ministers as opposed to 54. The south held a majority of the officers of the army and navy. They held the honors and the power and the north paid for it.

Notwithstanding this remarkable circumstance, the South attempted to secede simply because they were not permitted to run the Government.

In his speech at Indianapolis on Monday night, ex-Governor Hendricks claimed that the only way to secure a reform of the civil service, and to insure economy in the management of the Government was to place the Democrats in power! Considering that the Democracy never had any fixed policy regarding civil service, and that they have never advocated or practiced any scheme of practical economy in the management of national affairs, the words of Hendricks will make the country laugh. The people have not forgotten what the Democrats did in the Forty-Fourth, and the Forty-Fifth Congresses. Neither will they forget that while the Government has handled billions of dollars since the war began, the losses under the Republican administrations have been less than one ten-thousandth of one per cent. Even this per centage was largely owing to three robberies which no ordinary precaution could prevent. There is no large banking or manufacturing firm in the country, however wisely, economically, and judiciously it may have transacted its business, that can make so good a showing. And yet Hendricks clamors for Democratic power for economy's sake! It is a fair sample of Democratic economy and financiering, to take the defaulting county treasurers, of Ohio, furnished by the Bucyrus (Ohio) Journal. The history of these defaulters fills four columns of a newspaper. It shows that "the average number of Democratic counties in the State is forty six; in nineteen of these counties defalcations have occurred aggregating the enormous sum of $647,595. In two others defalcations have occurred, but their amount is not stated. The amount of money recovered thus far is but $57,560, leaving a net loss to the people of more than half a million of dollars. The whole number of defaulters is twenty-three, and the number punished but five. One of these defaulters, one Alfred Parker, of Brown county, was sentenced by a Democratic judge to one year in the penitentiary, while at the same term of court the same judge sentenced a negro to three years imprisonment for stealing seven dollars' worth of hams from a smoke house."

SUPREME COURT.

The Liability of Railroad Companies —The Transportation of Horses.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 6—An important decision of the State Supreme Court relates to the liability of railroad companies for horses injured while being transported on the cars. The case is that of Morrison vs. the Phillips & Colby Construction Company, operating the Wisconsin Central Railroad. The Court holds that a railroad company may by express contract limit its liability in the carriage of horses; that possession by a shipper of a carrier's receipt for the property, containing special terms, is at least prima facie evidence of his assent to such terms, and in most cases may be regarded as conclusive; that when the railroad company's usage was to carry horses at owner's risk, giving reduced rates for that reason, and when the letters "O. R.," signifying "Owner's Risk," were upon the receipt given to the plaintiff which he retained and put in evidence on the trial, he, the plaintiff, testifying that he did not see the letters (not that he did no understand their meaning), it is held that the intimation on the Company's liability clearly appears from the plaintiff's testimony. It further appears in the case that the injury to plaintiff's horses was caused by the breaking of a car wheel under the train, which threw the car containing the plaintiff's horse from the track, the track being in good order and the wheel having been used but a short time, and showing, on inspection after the break, no flaw or defect, and there being no evidence, except the breaking of the wheel, that tended to show negligence on the part of the Company it was decided that it was not error for the Circuit Judge to direct a verdict for the defendant.

THE MADISON COUNCIL.

The Question of Paving State Street —A Great Rumpus.

MADISON, Wis., August 6.—A row which has been going on in our City Council for a month or more, culminated on Saturday night in several members of the Council tendering their resignations to the mayor, thus leaving the Council without a quorum. The trouble originated in a difference as to whether State street should be macadamized by breaking stones with a crowbar or by hand

The Committee on Streets, having had powers delegated to them to have it done by the lowest bidder, engaged a contractor to do it, he breaking the stone in the quarry with a crusher. To secure the sympathy of the laboring men and satisfy an old grudge against the contractor, one of the Alderman opposed crushing the stone by machinery, and succeeded in getting six other Aldermen to side with him in an attempt to annul the contract. Saturday the resolution was lost by a tie vote, whereupon seven of the Aldermen resigned. A special election will have to be held to fill the vacancies. An injunction is talked of restraining the contractor from performing the work, which has not yet been begun. Considerable excitement exists here over the matter.

GOVERNMENT SURVEYS.

Another Muddle Caused by Loose Legislation.—The Survey of Government Lands.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 6—The work of making out the surveys of timber lands has been suspended, awaiting a decision of the Law Officer of the Government as to the meaning of that portion of the sundry civil appropriations of $300,000 for the survey of public lands. The Commissioner of the General Land-Office, finds that the body of his clause alludes to the expenditures for surveys of timber lands, and at the end of the act there is added an additional paragraph, stating in substance "That $30,000 is appropriated for the surveys of timber lands only." The question has arisen whether this last mentioned paragraph provides for an appropriation of $30,000 in addition to a sufficient sum for the purpose of timber-land surveys out of the $300,000 provided for in the body of the act.

WHITE SULPHUR.

The United States Orders the Sale of An 8,000 Acre Tract.

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, West Virginia, August 6.—In accordance with a decree of the United States District Court, the entire White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia property, about 8,000 acres in extent, was offered for sale to-day, but no higher bid than $300,000 being received, the sale was adjourned till to-morrow.

DELAWARE.

Proceedings of the Democratic State Convention—Hard Money.

DOVER, August 6—The Democratic State Convention to-day nominated John W. Hall, of Kent county, for Governor, by acclamation. Martin, of Sussex county, was nominated for Congress. One resolution indorses the Delaware Senators and Representatives in Congress, and concludes as follows:

In accordance with the time honored and constitutional faith of the Democratic party, we hold that the only honest and lawful money of the people of the United States is gold and silver coin, or paper currency convertible into such coin at the will of the holder.

THE RATTLESNAKE.

GALENA, Ill., August 6.—Frederick Ruth, a German, was bitten on the ankle yesterday afternoon by a huge rattlesnake, while binding oats in the field, three miles from this city. His life was saved by the free use of liquor, Ruth drinking nearly a quart before being affected by the stimulant. His limb was swoolen badly, and he suffered intense pain before taking the spirits. Rattlesnakes were never more numerous in this section than at present.

OBITUARY.

WATERTOWN, Wis., August 6.—Abraham Jacobs, one of the early settlers of Jefferson county, died suddenly of heart disease at his residence in the town of Concord, yesterday afternoon, aged 55 years, leaving a wife and three children. Mr. Jacobs was at work in the field when stricken, and expired in a few minutes after being conveyed to his home.

RESIGNED.

FOND DU LAC, August 6.—For some time past prominent Republicans have been trying to have W. C. Ogden, Deputy United States Collector of this district, removed for crookedness in office. Mr. Ogden has resigned, under pressure, it is supposed. J. B. Burto is appointed in his place, is the rumor.

GOOD QUARTZ.

BISMARCK, D. T., Aug. 6—The steamer Benton arrived yesterday morning from Benton with a cargo of Montana Wool. Passengers report that the places diggings in the Bear Paw Mountains are playing out, but good quartz is appearing in their places.

Clear the Way

For the escape from the system of its waste and debris, which, if retained, would vitiate the bodily fluids and overthrow health. That important channel of exit, the bowels, may be kept permanently free from obstructions by using the non-griping, gently acting and agreeable cathartic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which not only liberates impurities, but invigorates the lining of the intestinal canal when weakened by constipation or the unwise use of violent purgatives. The stomach, liver and urinary organs are likewise reinforced and aroused to healthful action by this beneficent tonic and corrective, and every organ, fibre, muscle and nerve experiences a share of its invigorating influence. Unobjectionable in flavor, a most genial and wholesome medicinal stimulant, and owing its efficacy to botanic sources exclusively, it is the remedy best adapted to household use on account of its safety, wide scope and speedy action. au6deodw1w

A SKELETON IN THE CLOSET.

"BRANDON COYLE! ARE YOU MAD?"

She had stolen up be hind him noiselessly, she had snatched the loaded pistol from his desperate hand and hurled it through the open window into the bay below. And not one instant too soon to save him from the crime of self destruction.

He whirled around upon her, and they stood facing each other with eyes flaming defiance.

How like, yet unlike, were these fierce, beautiful creatures—twin sisters and brother!

She, with her slender well rounded, lissom form; with her small, fine features and clear, deadly-pale yellow face, darkened by great, deep, hollow black eyes; the whole overshadowed by heavy, clustering auburn curls—a subtle, wistful face.

He, somewhat taller, fuller, and more supple, like another human snake, of a little larger growth, with paler complexion, darker eyes and darker hair.

They were the orphans niece and nephew of Christopher Coyle, Esquire, an old bachelor living on his ancient patrimonial estate of Caveland in the North of England.

Now they stood glaring at each other a full minute in silent menance. Then both spoke at once:

"Aspirita!"

"Brandon!"

"How dared you stop me?"

"How dared you raise your hand against your own life?"

"I dare do what I please," he answered, sullkily.

"So do I—except—except to rush from life to death—from the known to the unknown!" she retorted, solemnly.

"There can be no more perfect perdition than I suffer now! Why did you stop me?" he cried, with a groan of anguish.

"Because I would not have you destroy yourself for the sake of a peevish girl. Come, Brandon. Rouse yourself! Do be a man!" she exclaimed.

"I cannot live without Arielle!" he wailed.

"What a moonealf you are, to be crying after a girl! If you cannot live without her then why don't you live with her?" scornfully demanded the girl.

"'Live with her?' You know she is to be married to Valdimir Desparde to-morrow," replied the young man.

"She is to be married to-morrow; but this is to-day; and 'there's many a slip 'twixt the cup and'—but proverbs are vulgar, and you know what I mean."

"I do not!"

"You must stop the marriage, Brandon!"

"'Stop the marriage?' I wish I could! 'Stop the marriage! How am I to do that, I pray you?"

"Hush, Brandon! Come and sit down here on the sofa by me, and I will tell you what to do to break off this marriage, near as it is, and to win the bride for yourself, much as she is now devoted to her affianced lover," whispered the girl.

The suicidal phrenzy in him was laid for the moment, even though it might return.

"Now attend to me, Brandon. Before he became your successful riyal in the favor of Lady Arielle Montjoie, Valdimir Desparde was your most intimate friend, was he not?" inquired Aspirita.

"Of course he was," exclaimed Brandon, grinding his teeth.

"You were in his entire confidence?"

"Yes."

"You have often heard him regret, deplore the unfathomable mystery that hangs over his own and his sister's childhood?"

"Oh, to be sure. Haven't I told you so often enough?"

"And he rather resents his guardian's Lord Beaudevere's, reticence on this subject?"

"Yes, yes; but what has all this to do with the question of this detestable marriage?" exclaimed Brandon, impatiently.

"It has everything to do with stopping it. But you must be patient, my lad. Calm yourself, and collect your thoughts; for I must put you through a cross examination, and then feel my way."

"I don't understand you."

"No? But you will as I go on. Tell me, first, exactly how much Valdimir Desparde really does know of his early history? He has told you, I suppose?"

"Yes; but it is very little. He knows only so much as he remembers. He has heard nothing Lord Beaudevere, the only person in possession of the facts, firmly refuses to speak one word on the subject."

"Lord Beaudevere's reserve is very merciful."

"What do you say?"

"Lord Beaudevere's reserve is very merciful to Valdimir and his sister."

"What do you mean, Aspirita?"

"I will explain presently. But go on and tell all Valdimir Desparde has told you of his early life, Brandon."

"Let me think. Oh! He remembers living with his mother and his little sister, in very poor lodgings, in the narrow street of a great city, whose name he has forgotten, even if he ever learned it—"

"Was it in this country?"

"No, for he crossed water to come here."

"In France, then?"

"No, for they were English-speaking people who inhabited the city, and they had black servants. He thinks it must have been New York or New Orleans, or some other American city."

"New Orleans, probably, if they had many blacks. But go on."

"The name of the city, and even of the country, is lost to him in the morning mist of his dawn of memory."

"There was something concerning his father, the elder Valdimir Desparde, whom, however, he does not remember ever to have seen. But his mother never held up her head again. She used to cry over him and his sister, and pray to the Lord to take them out of this world, and save them from the evil to come—"

"Ah!" gasped Aspirita, as she listened to every word of this little story.

"At length the mother took to her bed from which she never rose again. One day a minister came and sat by the bed and wrote a letter for her, which was sent away. After that she grew weaker. Another day a gentleman arrived, a stranger, who afterwards proved to be Lord Beaudevere."

"Well, Brandon, why don't you go on?" eagerly demanded the attentive girl, seeing that her brother paused.

"I am trying to remember what Desparde told me of this stranger. Oh! he did not know who he was until long afterwards. Lord Beaudevere had this mother and children immediately removed to a more comfortable house, and provided them with everything they could want. Desparde remembers distinctly his mother's peaceful death, while Lord Beaudevere stood, with Vivienne in his arms and Valdimir by his side, promising the dying woman to be a father to them while he should live. Then followed the funeral and the black dresses. Then a long, long voyage in a sailing ship, all vaguely remembered by Valdimir."

"Did his sister—did Vivienne recollect nothing of this?"

"Nothing. Her earliest memories date from their life at Cloudland, whither their guardian took them immediately on their arrival in England."

"And we know all the rest from hearsay—how the bachelor, Lord Beaudevere, represented these children to his neighbors as his little cousins and wards; how he sent Valdimir to Eton, and afterwards to Oxford, where the young man distinguished himself as much by devotion to study as by skill in athletic sports; how the guardian sent him on his continental tour, and at his return celebrated his majority at Cloudland, presenting him to the tenantry as the heir; how the baron procured the most accomplished governess and masters for Vivienne, and took her to London and had her presented to the queen. All this we know of these two individuals, whose earliest days were passed in a squalid tenement house in a foreign city," said Aspirita, scornfully.

"Well, the fellow is the heir-presumptive of the title and estates of Lord Beaudevere! If it were not so, he might never have dared to aspire to the hand of the Lady Arielle Montjoie. Or if he had, his aspirations would have been treated with contempt."

"Then if he is the heir of the Barony of Beaudevere he must be so through his mother, for he cannot be so through his father, since the name of Desparde is not to be found in the Beaudevere genealogy," said Aspirita, sententiously.

"It is probably through his mother, whoever she was, since Beaudevere is one of those baronies that, failing male heirs, descend to the female. But I know nothing about it," replied Brandon, testily.

"Do you know that he really is the heir?"

"Yes, because it is so set down in the Peerage. Under the tabular list of noblemen, with their titles, family names, seats, and heirs, you will find this entry: 'Beaudevere—Baron; Family name, Beaue; Seat, Cloudland, in —— shire; Heir-Presumptive, Valdimir Desparde, Esq.'"

"Ah! Just now you alluded to this young man's father as Valdimir Desparde the elder. So that the son bears the exact name of his father?"

"Yes, the exact name of his father."

"He knows that, does he?"

"Yes, he knows that; but that is absolutely all that he does know of his father."

"Then we will try to enlighten him!" exclaimed Aspirita, with a blaze of maligniy from her big black eyes.

"You DO know something, then?" cried Brandon, starting.

"Yes, I do. I know that Lord Beaudevere is merciful in leaving Valdimer Desparde in his ignorance, and that he would have been much more merciful to have left him in obscurity," said Aspirita, solemnly.

Sister! WHAT do you mean? WHAT discovery have you made?" exclaimed Brandon, in great excitement.

"One that I intend you to reveal to Valdimir Desparde. And when you shall have done so, should he be the man of honor we believe him, he will release Lady Arielle from her engagement to him, and he will fly to the uttermost parts of the earth rather than wed with her."

"What is this discovery? Explain yourself!" exclaimed Brandon Coyle, starting up and standing before her.

Aspirita put her hand in her pocket and drew forth a folded newspaper, yellow and faded with age, and so worn all around its creases that it threatened to fall to pieces on being opened.

"What is that?" demanded Brandon, reaching forth his hand.

"Don't touch it yet. It is the New Orleans Courier of sixteen years ago. Uncle sent me up with his keys to open his secretary and fetch him some documents which he described to me. That was this morning, while the bailiff was here. Well, I went up to his secretary in the library, and unlocked the upper drawer, but had hard work to pull it out. When I did so, by main strength, at last, I pulled it too far, and it fell with a crash—"

"For Heaven's sake, get on!" impatiently exclaimed Brandon.

"And the jar, or something, touched or started the spring of a secret space at the back of the drawer that flew open and let this paper tumble out. There was nothing else in the hiding place but this paper. Oh! you will call it fate—its falling into my possession in this way!"

The young man eagerly seized the paper.

He looked at the lines she had indicated until his gaze dilated into a stare, his cheeks grew pale, and his chin fell—aghast with horror!

"Oh, this is terrible! terrible! terrible!" he exclaimed, when at last he could speak for emotion.

"If it be so terrible in your eyes, what must it be in his?" whispered Aspirita.

"What, indeed! Oh, this is worse than the worst that could be imagined!" he muttered.

"He—Valdimir Desparde—ought not to be permitted to marry Lady Arielle Montjoie," whispered Aspirita.

"Ought not? He must not and shall not! Oh! that Lord Beaudevere could have known this and kept it concealed!" bitterly exclaimed Brandon.

"He did it in mercy to Valdimir and Vivienne!"

"But what sort of mercy, or even justice, has he shown in his dealings with Lord and Lady Altofaire and Lady Arielle Montjoie?"

"Perhaps he thought this secret would never come out to injure them."

"And yet an old paper fortunately comes to light just in time to save the young lady from ruin and her family from dishonor. I will take this paper to the Earle of Altofaire this morning and lay the case before him!"

"No, no! Do not so!"

"Why not?"

"Because, if you do, the earl will stop the marriage, for Lady Arielle's sake, and then all Lady Arielle's sympathies will be with her betrothed lover, and she will remain faithful to him, and perhaps—even elope with him!"

"That is true! What, then, would you advise me to do with this paper?"

"Take it to Valdimir Desparde! Remind him of his oft expressed desire to penetrate the mystery of his own early life, and of his constant wonder at his guardian's reserve on the subject. Then show him the paper."

"Oh, Asp! Asp! what a serpent you are!" exclaimed Brandon Coyle, half in admiration, half in dread.

"Stay," she murmured. "I hope that Valdimir does not suspect that you ever aspired to the hand of Arielle?"

"No. He has not that matter of triumph over me. It was while he was on his 'grand tour' that I—made a fool of myself, and I have not since her rejection of my suit."

"And she has never told her betrothed of your offer, you presume?"

"Who? Arielle? Arielle boast of her conquest of one man to another man? I have heard of women who do such things, but Arielle—never!"

"So much the better. Then your way is clear. Go to him as his old friend, on the strength of your old mutual affection, and tell him, with as much seeming hesitation and delicate sympathy as you can assume, of the discovery you have just made, and of the uncompromising sense of duty that constrains you to communicate it to him. He will fly the country; I know he will. But he will come to bid me good-by first; I know that too. And then if I do not commence a treatment of consolation and cure, my name is not Aspirita Coyle!"

"Oh, Asp! Asp! So that is your game, is it?"

"That is my 'game' as you call it, Brand. You thought I had your happiness only in view? Pooh, pooh, brother! we are egotists all. You love the bride elect. I like the bridegroom expectant. We work together for our own mutual interests. Behold all!"

"But, Aspirita, would you marry a man who did not think himself good enough for Lady Arielle Mentjoie? A man in his exceptional circumstances?" inquired Brandon Coyle, in surprise.

"Yes, I would. I am not Lady Arielle Montjoie. I am Aspirita Coyle, the orphan, dependent on my bachelor uncle, whose estates will all go to you. Besides, I love him," added the bold beauty, without a moment's hesitation.

"Humph! A man with such a reproach attached to his name! You must love him for himself alone, then?"

"No! for myself alone! I might be capable of killing him to prevent another woman having him!"

"Bravo, Asp! But oh! the fates forbid that ever your sting should strike me!"

"Go now, and execute your mission to Cloudland. It is time, unless you would prefer a dramatic forbidding of the bans at the very altar to-morrow!" said Aspirita, not a whit discomposed by the questionable compliments of her brother.

"Can't forbid the bans, since there have been no bans! They are to be married by special license," said Brandon, almost gayly, so much was he elated by the prospect of preventing the marriage.

"They were to have been married, you mean! But they certainly are not to be now," amended Aspirita.

"And, meanwhile, as the parties most concerned, they should be informed of their changed prospects," added Brandon Coyle, with a smile; and, rising, with a bow he left his sister, and, a few minutes later, departed on his detestable errand.

Aspirita Coyle looked after him, a great light of triumph dilating her dark eyes until they seemed the mouths of caverns leading down to the abyss of her darker soul, as she muttered to herself:

"Now, Valdimir Desparde, you shall be mine! It may take trouble and time, but I can work and—wait!" The above we publish as a specimen chapter; but the continuation of this story will be found only in the New York Ledger. Ask for the number dated August 17, which can now be had at any news office or bookstore. If you are not within reach of a news office, you can have the Ledger mailed to you for one year by sending three dollars to Robert Bonner, publisher, 180 William street, New York.

REPUBLICAN CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT CONVENTION.

FIRST DISTRICT.

A Republican Convention of the First Congressional District of the State of Wisconsin, composed of the counties of Kenosha, Racine, Waukesha, Walworth, and Rock, is hereby called to meet at the village of Elkhorn, in the county of Walworth, on Tuesday, the 13th day of August, 1878, at 12 o'clock noon of that day, to nominate a candidate for Congress, for the District, for the next ensuing two years. Each Senate and Assembly District will be entitled to two delegates in the Convention.

Dated July 16th, 1878.

JOHN R. BENNETT,
A. D. THOMAS,
ELIHU ENOS,
T. G. FISH,
W. E. REED,
Committee.

REPUBLICAN SENATORIAL CONVENTION.

A Republican Senatorial Convention of the Seventeenth Senatorial District, comprising the county of Rock, is hereby called to meet at the Court House, in the city of Janesville, on the 10th day of August, 1878, at 2 o'clock, p. m., of that day, to nominate a candidate for State Senator and to select two Senatorial delegates to represent the district in the Republican Congressional Convention to be held at Elkhorn, on the 13th day of August, 1878, and to transact any other business that may be deemed appropriate. Each of the towns and wards will be entitled to the same number of delegates as in the County Conventions.

JOHN R. BENNETT,
S. T. MERRILL,
I. M. BENNETT,
Committee.

July 30th, 1878.

WARD CAUCUSES.

FOURTH WARD.

The voters of the Fourth ward, city of Janesville, are requested to meet in caucus at the Common Council Chamber, at 8 o'clock, p. m., on Wednesday night, August 7th, to elect delegates to the Assembly Convention, and transact such other business as may come before them.

By order of Committee.

TOWN CAUCUSES.

The proper Republican Town Committees have authorized Town Caucuses to be held at the following towns and places to choose delegates to the called convention:

FULTON—At Indian Ford, on Thursday, August 8th, at 2 o'clock p m.

ROCK—At the town of Rock, at the usual place, Thursday afternoon, August 8th, at 2 o'clock.

CENTER—At Grange Hall, Center, Friday, August 9th, at 4 o'clock.

LIMA—At Lima Center, Friday August 9th, at 2 o'clock.

LA PRAIRIE—At town hall, Friday, August 9th, at 2 o'clock.

PLYMOUTH—At the Hanover House, on Friday, August 9th, at 2 o'clock.

BRADFOLD—At Town Hall, Friday, August 9th, at 3 o'clock, p.m.

Wisconsin Republicans.

New York Tribune: In Wisconsin, the Republicans have no State Convention this year, there being no election of State officers. As a substitute, there has been a meeting of the State Committee, at which a platform has been adopted. This, in its conciseness and good sense, is certainly a good argument, so far as it goes, for the construction of platforms by small bodies. Their deliberation is possible, and the careful forethought of an individual need not be marred by the feverish haste of the many. The Wisconsin statement of principles is mainly taken up, as Republican platforms should be nowadays, with a defence of sound money. The fourth plank is a whole sermon, in brief, upon the delusion or "absolute money", which, it well says, would soon be "absolute in one respect only—absolutely worthless." Upon the President's policy, the committee preserved a careful neutrality, recognizing the sincerity of his intentions while admitting honest differences of opinion regarding his acts. Another section in which the President is referred to every Republican convention could well adopt. Even the Democrats will admit that the Potter investigation has wholly failed to disclose any improper action by President Hayes."

"Crime is Born in the Mind."

Boston Post.

A man was once brought before the late Judge Stevens, of Lawrence, charged with a petty offense. The respondent proved that the offense was committed across the line, in the town of Salem, New Hampshire, and pleaded in bar to the jurisdiction of the court. "Exactly," replied the court, "but you had your mind on it in Lawrence, and I fine you $5 and costs."

CATARRH

Sneezing Catarrh, Chronic Catarrh, Ulcerative Catarrh, permanently cured by

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH is a safe, certain, and permanent cure for Catarrh of every form, and is the most perfect remedy ever devised. It is purely a vegetable distillation, and is applied locally by insufflation, and constitutionally by internal administration. Locally applied, relief is instantaneous. It soothes, heals, and cleanses the nasal passages of every feeling of heaviness, obstruction, dulness, or dizziness. Constitutionally administered it renovates the blood, purifies it of the acid poison with which it is always charged in Catarrh, stimulates the stomach, liver, and kidneys, perfects digestion, makes new blood, and permits the formation of sound, healthy tissue, and finally obtains complete control over the disease. The remarkable curative powers, when all other remedies utterly fail, of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE, are attested by thousands who gratefully recommend it to fellow-sufferers. No statement is made regarding it that cannot be substantiated by the most respectable and reliable references. It is a great and good medicine, and worthy all confidence. Each package contains a Treatise on Catarrh and Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, and full directions for its use in all cases. Price $1.

An Enthusiastic Friend of Sanford's Radical Cure.

McHATTON, GRANT & BOWEN'S FIRE AND MARINE INSURANCE AGENCY, 925 Pine Street, St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 7, 1877.

A. A. MELLIER, Washington Av., City.—Dear Mellier: I have for some years been troubled with Catarrh, and for the past two years have suffered seriously with it. Noticing your advertisement of SANFORD'S REMEDY (RADICAL CURE), I decided to try it. I have used only two bottles, and as a result I feel so much relieved that I presume on our personal relations and write this to you and ask that you take some measures to get it more prominently before the public, that others may have such relief as I have. I have recommended it to quite a number of my friends, all of whom have expressed to me their high estimate of its value and good effects with them.

I really think it particularly adapted to wants of St. Louis people, and they all ought to know of it, and those who need it should try it. I will risk the assertion that 2000 1 oz. vials (as a sample) to be given away will sell as many bottles.

Try some plan. Let the people have it; they need it. I believe I could sell 5000 bottles myself—of course you could largely increase this number. Why not try it? Yours truly, WM. BOWEN.

Sold by all Wholesale and Retail Druggists and Dealers in Medicine throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

LAME BACK AND RHEUMATISM

CURED BY

COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTERS

Messrs. Weeks & Potter: Gentlemen,—One year ago I was seized with a severe attack of Rheumatism in my right hip, to which I was subject. I tried the various liniments and rheumatic cures, but without the least benefit, when my son, a druggist, suggested one of your COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTERS. The effect was almost magical, for, to my grateful surprise, I was almost immediately well again, and was able to work upon my farm as usual, whereas, before the application of the Plaster, I could do nothing, and every step gave me pain. A few weeks since, one year from the first attack, the disease returned, but I am happy to say the second Plaster proved as efficacious as the first, and I am now well. My wife wishes me to add that one Plaster has cured her of a very lame back. We think there is nothing in the world of remedies that can compare with the COLLINS' VOLTAIC PLASTERS for Rheumatism and Lame Back, and cheerfully recommend them to the suffering. Yours very respectfully,

ORLAND, ME., June 6, 1876. ROBERT COTTON.

NOT A QUACK NOSTRUM.

Gentlemen,—I hereby certify that for several years past I have used the VOLTAIC PLASTERS in my practice, and have never known them to fail in affording speedy relief in those cases for which they are recommended. They are not a quack nostrum, but a remedial agent of great value. Very truly yours, W. C. COLLINS, M. D.

THE GAZETTE.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 7, 1878.

MILTON JUNCTION.

—Mr. G. W. Snow returned from Central Square, New York, where he and his little daughter Allie have been visiting relatives.

—Mrs. Dodd has wonderfully improved the appearance of her house and grounds recently by building a fine veranda, and placing a very pretty and substantial fence around her yard, all of which has been nicely painted. Such improvements add much to the beauty of our town and are worthy of notice.

—Mrs. Hazard is spending a few days in Illinois, visiting friends.

—Mrs. Fred Hanner, of Miles, Iowa, is home visiting her father's family, Mr. L. P. Bullis, Esq.

—George Mills and wife, of Fort Atkinson, have been spending a few days with their parents here, and also at Milton.

—B. F. Titsworth returned on Friday from Farring, Illinois. Frank goes right to work again as though there was no time to waste.

—Mr. Roswell Hill has just finished his repairs and painting on his house. He has built around his house perhaps the most tasty, substantial and costly veranda in the village, and has thoroughly painted his house inside and out. He says he has used 17 kegs of white lead.

—Mr. William Wood came into town last Tuesday with his brother for the first time since he was hurt. He uses crutches, one of his limbs being about two inches shorter than the other. Otherwise he is getting comparatively well again.

—Mr. W. H. Gates, who, for some years, has been in the employ of Dr. Wing, has changed his position and gone into the employ of a druggist at Fort Atkinson. Success go with him.

—The Ladies Institute of Temperance held another ice cream festival at Morgan's hall, Tuesday evening. The condition of the weather made it a very inviting affair.

—Mrs. Holton, of Minneapolis, Minnesota, and her two daughters are spending a few weeks at her old home visiting her relatives, the Harveys, who live on the edge of Fulton.

—Eva Soaper had a pretty big little party on the occasion of her birthday, the 1st inst. About fourteen or fifteen little girls, mostly dressed in white, formed and marched through town to her home early in the afternoon, carrying with them presents and happy faces. The afternoon was spent in singing, speaking, and a general romp upon the shady lawn, followed by a tempting repast spread by Mrs. Soaper, which was duly appreciated by the little assemblage who went home feeling well repaid for their efforts to add to little Eva's happiness on this her ninth birthday.

—Mr. George Button went to Chicago last week and staid longer than usual, but the cause of it is seen in the steady stream of goods that has been pouring into town ever since.

FREE FROM TAXES AT LAST.

Death of the Eldest of the Five Sisters of Glastonbury.

Philadelphia Times.

So at last dear old little Miss Abby Hadassah Smith, one of the five sisters, not of York, but of Glastonbury, in Connecticut, has up and died; slipped out of her coil of eighty-one mortal years and flitted away to be ever more young in that paradise where the taxes are all paid in a lump in advance and where the tax gatherers (in their official capacity) are wholly unknown. Of course Miss Abby was cranky—a little old lady whose name was parted in the middle by such an outrageous word as Hadassah scarcely could be expected to be anything else. But, to be sure, queer names ran in the family; her four sisters were Nancy Rephina, Cyrinthea Lucretia, Laurilla Aleroyia and Julia Evelina—a double-barreled series of cognomens that must have been aggravating and a trifle perplexing when the sisters wanted to call each other in a hurry. So long as there was anything left to be abolished they were violent abolitionists; when the colored man was recognized as a voter and a brother they switched off, as did many of their kind, to the woman's rights track, and Miss Abby and Miss Julia, who have long survived the rest of the family, have been active workers in the cause of feminine reform. It was in practicing what they preached that they became famous. Taxation without representation, they declared, furnished a valid reason for the rebellion of England's American colonies, and they argued that as they were taxed and were not represented they had a right to rebel, too. They did rebel, refusing right womanfully to pay their Glastonbury town taxes, their State taxes or their taxes to the Federal Government. They had a farm, down near Glastonbury, left them by their father—who started life as a parson and then shifted from the pulpit to the bar—and on this farm they lived very comfortably except on the day that the tax gatherer called. On that day most dismal of all the days of the year, a fierce altercation would take place between Miss Abby, who was the spokeswoman of the family, and the minion of the law. It always ended the same way. Miss Abby would take a solemn oath on Miss Julia's translation of the Bible—for Miss Julia was a Greek scholar of a certain sort, and really did make a delightful original translation of the Bible—that she would not pay her taxes, and then the tax-gatherer would march round the house to the barnyard and would drive away the cows. The cows would be sold at auction and the town would be satisfied. The neighbors would buy the cows and give them back to Miss Abby Hadessah and Miss Julia Evelina—and things would flow on smoothly for another year. And now Miss Abbly has gone the way of all flesh, and poor Miss Julia is left alone on the farm for the few remaining days of her early pilgrimage. Everybody, we are sure, will feel sorry for the poor little old body who remains in solitary state in the house, now so lonely, that once was made bright by the presence of her five sisters with the queer names.

The Man Who Never Sweats.

Reading, Pennsylvania, Eagle.

The case of Peter Wending, the Lebanon man who never perspires, heretofore mentioned in the Eagle, was fully described by Dr. J. H. Mease, of Lebanon, in the Dental Times, in 1871, as follows: "Mr. Wending is about 38 years of age. He never had teeth developed in his jaws, but his gums are very hard and resisting. Over the alveolar ridges they seem to be almost a callous or bone formation, enabling him to masticate the hardest substances most readily. He is also destitute of the sense of taste and smell and yet he is not without a choice as to food and drink, arising I suppose, from certain stomachic excitements produced by his favorite articles. He is a great lover of beer and oytsers; but, as to the latter, he knows no difference between a good and a bad one—eating the putrid as eagerly as the fresh. He never perceives (and is, therefore, perfectly happy in the atmosphere of) offensive odors. The skin over his entire body is dry and raspy, and utterly devoid of sebacious glands and hair follicles, with the exception of his face where a few wiry hairs have straggled into daylight. The sudoriferous glands and their ducts are also wanting, a circumstance which causes him much suffering during the summer season, more particularly when the weather is warm and the atmosphere dry. He then, for the sake of comfort,—and perhaps preservation of life itself,—must cover himself with wet clothing and resort to the damp cellar. Here he sleeps, laying on the bare earth. When the writer of this was but a boy this anomelous being was in his father's employ on the farm, and this peculiarity was often a terrible annoyance to myself and others, as we were obliged to relieve his agony from heat by running for water and pouring bucket upon bucket over his writhing form. Well do I remember his 'Ah! you stayed; that water is not cold—you played!' when we happened to be a little longer than he thought we ought to be. On these occasions his symptoms were those of asphyxiation; otherwise he is apparently possessed of good health. These conditions seem to be partly hereditary on the maternal side, since his mother had a brother with nearly similar defects, though the man himself is the only one out of a family of nine children to whom these imperfections have been transmitted. He is also himself the father of seven healthy children, in whom not a trace of his own misfortune is to be found. Upon the whole, the case of Mr. Wending may be ranked among the freaks of nature which defy explanation."

VEGETINE

I will try Vegetine. He did, AND WAS CURED.

DELAWARE, O., Feb. 16, 1877.

MR. H. R. STEVENS:—

Dear Sir,—I wish to give you this testimony, that you may know, and let others know, what Vegetine has done for me. About two years ago a small sore came on my leg; it soon became a large Ulcer, so troublesome that I consulted the doctor, but I got no relief, growing worse from day to day. I suffered terribly; I could not rest day or night; I was so reduced my friends thought I would never recover. I consulted a doctor at Columbus. I followed his advice; it did no good. I can truly say I was discouraged. At this time I was looking over my newspaper; I saw your advertisement of Vegetine, the "Great Blood Purifier" for cleansing the blood from all impurities, curing Humors, Ulcers, &c. I said to my family, I will try some of the Vegetine; Before I had used the first bottle I began to feel better. I made up my mind I had got the right medicine at last. I could now sleep well nights. I continued taking the Vegetine. I took thirteen bottles. My health is good. The Ulcer is gone, and I am able to attend to business. I paid about four hundred dollars for medicine and doctors before I bought the Vegetine. I have recommended Vegetine to others with good success. I always keep a bottle of it in the house now. It is a most excellent medicine. Very respectfully yours,

F. ANTHONI.

Mr. Anthoni is one of the pioneers of Delaware, Ohio. He settled here in 1834. He is a wealthy gentleman, of the firm of F Anthoni & Sons. Mr Anthoni is extensively known, especially among the Germans. He is well known in Cincinnati. He is respected by all.

IMPURE BLOOD—In morbid conditions of the blood are many diseases; such as salt-rheum, ring worm, boils, carbuncles, sores, ulcers and pimples. In this condition of the blood try the VEGETINE, and cure these affections. As a blood purifier it has no equal. Its effects are wonderful.

VEGETINE

Cured Her.

DORCHESTER, Mass., June 11

DR STEVENS:—

Dear Sir,—I feel it my duty to say one word in regard to the great benefit I have received from the use of one of the greatest wonders of the world; it is your Vegetine. I have been one of the greatest sufferers for the last eight years that ever could be living. I do sincerely thank my God and your Vegetine for the relief I have got. The Rheumatism has pained me to such an extent that my feet broke out in sores. For the last three years I have not been able to walk; now I can walk and sleep, and do my work as well as ever I did, and I must say I owe it all to your blood purifier. Vegetine.

MARGERY WELLS.

VEGETINE—The great success of the VEGETINE as a cleanser and purifier of the blood is shown beyond a doubt by the great numbers who have taken it, and received immediate relief, with such remarkable cures.

VEGETINE

Is better than any MEDICINE.

HENDERSON, Ky, Dec., 1877.

I have used H. R. Stevens' Vegetine, and like it better than any medicine I have used for purifying the blood. One bottle of Vegetine accomplished more good than all other medicines I have taken.

THOS. LYNE, Henderson Ky.

VEGETINE is composed of Roots, Barks, and Herbs. It is very pleasant to take; every child likes it.

VEGETINE

Recommended by M. D.'s.

H R STEVENS:—

Dear Sir,—I have sold Vegetine for a long time, and find it gives most excellent satisfaction.

HAS met with unparalleled success in the treatment of all

Chronic Diseases

—OF THE—

THROAT, LUNGS, HEART, STOMACH, LIVER.

Head, nerves, kidneys, bladder, womb, and blood affections of the urinary organs, gravel, scrofula, rheumatism, catarrh, asthma, bronchitis, dyspepsia, &c.

Dr. Price's reputation has been acquired by candid, honest dealing and years of successful practice.

My practice not one of experiment, but founded on the laws of Nature, with years of experience and evidence to sustain it, does not tear down, make sick to make well; no harsh treatment, no trifling, no flattering. We know the cause and the remedy needed; no guess work, but knowledge gained by years of experience in the treatment of Chronic diseases exclusively; no encouragement without a prospect. Candid in our opinions, reasonable in our charges, claim not to know everything, or cure everybody, but do lay claim to reason and common sense. We invite the sick, no matter what their ailment, to call and investigate before they abandon hope, make interrogations and decide for yourselves; it will cost nothing as consultation is free. Visits made regularly.

THE GAZETTE.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 7, 1878.

CITY AND COUNTY.

WARD CAUCUSES.

FIRST WARD.

The voters of the First Ward, City of Janesville, are requested to meet in caucus at Washington Engine House, on Thursday evening, August 8th, at 8 o'clock, to elect delegates to the Assembly Convention and transact such other business as may come before them.

By order of Committee,

SECOND WARD.

The voters of the Second ward, City of Janesville, are requested to meet in caucus at Water Witch Engine House, on Thursday evening, August 8th, at 8 o'clock, to elect delegates to the Assembly Convention, and transact such other business as may come before them.

By order of Committee.

THIRD WARD.

The voters of the Third ward City of Janesville are requested to meet in caucus at the Agricultural Room, in the Court House, on Thursday evening, August 8th, at 8 o'clock, to elect delegates to the Assembly Convention, and transact such other business as may come before them.

By order of Committee.

FOURTH WARD.

The voters of the Fourth ward, city of Janesville, are requested to meet in caucus at the Common Council Chamber, at 8 o'clock, p. m., on Wednesday night, August 7th, to elect delegates to the Assembly Convention, and transact such other business as may come before them.

By order of Committee.

BRIEFLETS.

—Harvest nearly over.

—The fire bell is dumb.

—The veterans rally to-night.

—The political pot is simmering.

—Geneva is drawing like a mustard plaster.

—The Board of Education hold their regular monthly meeting to-night.

—The Congregationalists have another talk, to-morrow night, about rebuilding the chapel.

—Mr. Cyrus Miner, has returned to the city from the East where he has been purchasing boot and shoes to supply his many customers.

—Those who bought blue glass windows are now anxious for another eclipse to come along. They find they are of no good for anything but looking at the sun.

—Cook's new building is to be a beauty. The stores are to have marble floors, large plate windows, and finished in walnut, making two of the handsomest business places in the city.

—The Hessian Band had to come to America to "bust," and Gilmore had to go to Paris to do the same thing. It is said that Schaub, the leader of the Hessian Band, and his two sons, will go to farming in Wisconsin.

—The good folks of the First Methodist church some time ago placed their crockery in a tightly locked closet in the basement of the church, but on looking for it the other day found that thieves had broken through and stolen a large portion of it. No arrests.

—Dooling, who thrice attempted suicide inside of twelve hours, was up before Justice Prichard this morning, charged with drunkenness. He said he remembered nothing at all about his attempts to end life, and said that for five years he had not touched a drop of intoxicants, until about three weeks ago when he received a letter saying that the man to whom he had lent the hard earnings of many years had run away and left him penniless. He then sought comfort in drink. He was given five days more in jail to get the whisky all out of him. He appears to be a hard-working honest sort of a fellow, and his story renders him an object of pity.

THE WEATHER.

The thermometer at 7 o'clock this morning stood at 75 degrees above zero, and at 2 o'clock at 89 degrees above. Cloudy. One year ago to day at corresponding hours the thermometer stood at 68 and 84 degrees above.

FIFTH WARD CAUCUS.

At a caucus of Fifth Ward Republican voters last evening, the following were chosen delegates to the Assembly Convention which meets on the 9th inst.: J. B. Hume, N. E. Bennett, Richard O'Donnell.

Another caucus will be held at Clark's carpenter shop, near the Davis house tomorrow evening, to choose delegates for the Senatorial Convention.

NARROW ESCAPE.

As Mr. D. Wescott was crossing the railroad bridge, last evening, about 10:30 o'clock, he stepped upon a broken board, and fell through. His leg catching in one of the timbers, held him until his cries for help brought to his assistance Mr. Pat Kane, who assisted him to the top of the bridge. About half an hour previous to his falling in, he had passed over in safety, and the boards were then in a sound condition. Had Mr. Wescott not been caught in the timbers, a case of drowning might have been the result. As it is, the muscles of his limb are somewhat strained—the only injury he sustained. Mr. Wescott says he don't want any closer calls, than that of last night.

FOREPAUGH'S SHOW.

Judging from the tone of the press generally, throughout the State, we do not hesitate to endorse the Great World's Forepaugh Show as the largest and very best traveling on the road. The press everywhere along its route speak of it as the only show that exhibits to its patrons everything that it promises upon its large posters. This being a commendable feature, those who adopt this course should be liberally patronized.

This Great Show will exhibit in this city August 15th.

Below we copy an article from the Milwaukee Sentinel of July 20th, which will speak for itself:

"Forepaugh's circus and menagerie entertainment as given on the Poplar street grounds, yesterday, was an exception to the generality of traveling shows. The entire programme was carried out exactly as represented and in a thoroughly artistic manner. The acrobatic feats excelled even the announcements in many respects. The riding was fine, and the performance, as a whole, was unsurpassed in this city. The pyramid of elephants was a surprising example of what training will do with the quadrupeds. The collection of animals and curiosities was by no means a minor attraction, and attracted large crowds of visitors during the afternoon and evening. The cage of lions is by far the largest and finest of any that has appeared here. A white deer, a number of seals, a full grown hippopotamus, the only one in this country, a rhinoceros and a very fine specimen of a white bear, were special objects of interest, while the usual cages kept the children on the qui vive.

OBITUARY.

MRS. OLIVE D. HENDRICKSON.

Death, sudden and sad, this morning ended the life of Mrs. Olive Densmore Hendrickson, wife of Rev. Alonzo D. Hendrickson, of this city. Mrs. Hendrickson was about her house yesterday morning, and was in accustomed health, when she complained of a dizzy faintness, and seemed to realize that "her work was over," to use her own words. She called to her aid one of her daughters, spoke a few words, and lapsed into unconsciousness. She did not rally from this attack, which proved to be a stroke of apoplexy, and this morning about 6 o'clock, she passed into her long rest. There seems to have been nothing about her work or her, circumstances which caused this sudden stroke. There was to have been a church social at the residence this evening, but no extra duties or cares came to her on this account, and the attack of this disease seemingly so sudden, was doubtless but the outward manifestation of a disorder which had long been secretly at work.

Mrs. Hendrickson was born in Burlington, New York, June 24, 1817, and was consequently in her 62d year. In November, 1841, she was married to Alonzo D. Hendrickson, at Mexicoville, New York. In 1855 the family removed to the West and took up their residence in Whitewater where they soon gathered about them a host of warm friends, and where Mr. Hendrickson taught for about five years. They then removed to Eagle, and after a residence there of two and a half years moved to Waukesha, in which county Mr. Hendrickson was elected Superintendent of Schools. After thus serving for three and one-half years, he was chosen Superintendent of the State Industrial School for Boys, and his wife was elected Matron, while his daughters served as teachers. When Mr. Hendrickson left that position about eighteen months ago the family removed to this city where they have since resided.

Mrs. Hendrickson leaves to mourn her death, besides her husband, two daughters, M. Louise and Jennie R. Hendrickson, and one son, C. A. Hendrickson. The latter is living in Clay county, Nebraska, and will be unable, of course, to reach here in time for the funeral service. He is said to be particularly attached to his mother, and the news will fall heavily upon him. She leaves also two sisters, one of whom, Mrs. Mary A. Donovan, of Waukesha, reached the city last evening. The other sister, Mrs. Dr. Elmer, of New York city, has been an invalid for eleven years. Mrs. Church and Mr. Hendrickson, of Barrington, Illinois, a niece and nephew of Mr. Hendrickson's, also arrived to-day.

The deceased was a consistent member of the First Methodist church, having attached herself to that faith at the early age of 14. She has been quite zealous in the missionary cause, and was also an active Sunday School worker, and her class, whom she taught as usual last Sunday, will feel greatly their loss. She was naturally a nurse, and her place seemed always to be beside the sick and suffering, and in her younger days she has cheered many an invalid by her sweet songs, her voice being one of rich melody and some culture. During the time in which she acted as Matron of the Industrial School, she took charge of the sick there, and by her motherly ways won the affection of those under her charge, to such an extent that both during and since her connection with that institution she has been the recipient of many words and tokens of remembrance from them. Her mental capacities were very evenly balanced. She was prudent, and gifted with good judgment, a woman of few words, and of rather a retiring nature, and yet loved best by those who knew her best. She has not lived here very long, but has won many friends and admirers, and her death will prove a sad loss to the church and to the community.

The funeral services will take place tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock at the residence.

THE DAM QUESTION.

To the Editor.

A dispatch from Fort Atkinson to the Chicago Times states that a surveying party was employed in making surveys on the river and Lake Koshkonong, in order to settle some questions relating to the overflown lands bordering on the lake.

From this it appears that the good people about the Fort are having a relapse of the dam disease. They have long had a kind of hydrophobia, and whenever there is a shower of rain sufficient to sprinkle the streets or moisten their meadows, they go into convulsions, and every man, woman and child in the neighborhood of Rock river or the lake, simultaneously cries out, "the dam, the dam, out with the dam," and so distressing have these cries become that they have awakened the sympathies of the State Board of Health to such an extent that it is almost as dam mad as the damphobiaists themselves.

These seven wise Badgers, true to the instinct of their kind, are at present burrowing into the question of property titles, having commenced with the Milford dam. Their curiosity is as omniverous as that of an ancient female of the unmarried persuasion. They want to know all about it, who built the dam and what he built it for, and what he was thinking about when he built it; what his father thought about it, and what conviction his mother-in-law had on the subject. From present appearances nobody can tell how far back their investigations will extend, but it is conjectured that when they have reached the dark ages, they intend to call up the spirits of the original "red rulers" and ascertain their views on the subject of dams in general. As the noble savage has always treated water with a distant respect which coincides exactly with the sentiments of the Koshkonongers, it is thought his testimony may prove the missing link which connects the Koshkonong flowage with the great original flood.

Far be it from us to hint that such researches are as relevant to the duties of a State Board of Health as they would be to those of the Trustees of an Asylum for the Feeble-minded. Continue then your burrowings, oh seven wise Badgers, and "damed be he who first cries, hold, enough!"

AN ELECTRIC FREAK.

Special Correspondence.

COOKSVILLE, August 5—Last Wednesday evening, July 31st, at about ten o'clock, a remarkable electric phenomenon was witnessed in this vicinity. Some describe it as the appearance of balls of fire and at the same instant a most terrific peal of thunder, as though a heavy cannon was discharged, accompanied with a crash as though the whole house was tumbling to ruins, but none of that reviberating sound usually folllowing heavy thunder. What is quite singular most every one describes the shock as though it burst in the air immediately over their own dwelling. No very heavy clouds were visible at the time, in fact a large portion of the sky was star-light, and only a few drops of rain fell.

EMERALD GROVE.

—Most of the farmers have finished harvesting, and the thresher is heard in the land.

—The M. E. sociable will be held at the parsonage on Friday afternoon and evening. The telephone in the evening. All are invited.

—Wm. Squires has been to Chicago and brought back a lot of goods.

—Look out for a wedding soon.

—Corn grew, in the month of July, an average of five feet and looks well.

—Henry Millington dug forty-six post holes and set in the posts, thirty inches deep, in three hours and thirty minutes, for J. Lilburn.

—The Sunday evening services have several times, of late, been disturbed by the hilarity of some who wander up and down the streets after having tarried too long at the cup.

UNION.

—Harvesting is all finished and the crops are in the shock in good condition. Some pieces of oats were badly lodged, but otherwise the crop is good. Barley good but all of it is colored some. Wheat was hurt by rust and will therefore be of poor quality.

—Some of our farmers are intending to make mutton next winter in good earnest, and are already buying sheep for that purpose.

—Mr. James Montgomery and James Linkin have each a new self-binder. They both work well.

—Willie Wall is quite sick. The symptoms are of typhoid fever, but it is hoped that he will escape with only symptoms.

—The remains of Mrs. Jennie Cross, a former resident of this place and daughter of Peter Aller, of Evansville, were interred in the Union cemetery, Tuesday, July 6th.

—Last Sunday the tobacco raisers got the benefit of a few hints about growing the weed, from Elder Rodgers.

Liver is King.

The Liver is the imperial organ of the whole human system, as it controls the life, health and happiness of man. When it is disturbed in its proper action, all kinds of ailments are the natural result. The digestion of food, the movements of the heart and blood, the action of the brain and nervous system, are all immediately connected with the workings of the Liver. It has been successfully proved that Green's August Flower is unequalled in curing all persons afflicted with Dyspepsia or Liver Complaint, and all the numerous symptoms that result from an unhealthy condition of the Liver and Stomach. Sample bottles to try, 10 cents. Positively sold in all towns on the Western Continent. Three doses will prove that it is just what you want.

If Baldness or a Deficiency of Hair

Exists, or if the hair is gray, dry or harsh, the natural youthful color can be restored by using "London Hair Color Restorer," the most delightful article ever introduced to the American people for increasing its growth, restoring its natural color, and at the same time a lovely hair dressing and beautifier. It is totally different from all others; not sticky or gummy, and free from all impure ingredients that render many other articles obnoxious; in fact it is exquisitely perfumed and so cleanly and elegantly prepared as to make it a lasting hair dressing and toilet luxury.

J A TYNES, A PROMINENT CITIZEN, Wilson, N. C., writes: Some ten years ago my wife's hair commenced falling, and got very thin and turned gray; but after using "London Hair Color Restorer" the scalp became healthy, the hair stopped falling, the color was restored, and is now growing beautifully.

Ask your druggist for London Hair Color Restorer. Price, 75 cents a bottle. Six bottles, $4. Main Depot for the U. S., 330 North Sixth St, Philadelphia. jy29deodw1y,-1

Beyond the Reach of Human Skill.

Is the power to restore the hair to bald heads when the bulbs at the roots are destroyed by age or disease; but there are doubtless many persons becoming bald, whose hair by careful attention might be restored to its original luxuriance and beauty. Parker's Hair Balsam is an elegant preparation, designed to meet the public want for a harmless hair dressing and restorative. It acts like magic, commencing at the very roots, removes Dandruff and all humors from the scalp, and never fails to restore gray or faded hair to the original color, and the soft, rich and glossy appearance of youth. By its occasional use falling of the hair is immediately checked, and a luxuriant and beautiful growth of young hair induced. The exquisite perfume and the purity of its composition are highly appreciated, and as it is not a dye and does not stain the skin or clothing, it is a growing favorite of the toilet table everywhere. Buy a bottle from your druggist A. J. Robert's, Janesville, Wis., and test its merits.

DIED.

CLARKE—In Harmony, July 25th, DAVID CLARKE, aged 81 years, 4 months, and 12 days.

Weep not for him, for he was there,
Whose sleepless eye is over all.
God listened to his latest prayer,
And answered his impassioned call;
He sent his missioned angel down
To bear the waiting soul away,
No more to meet misfortune's frown,
Or smile at pleasure's fleeting ray.

The Commercial Bulletin contains the following review of the operations of pork-packers here and at other eastern points.

The receipts of hogs during the past week were 68,809, against 56 234 for the week previous, and 45,350 for the corresponding week last year. The quality was only fair—the average weight of the receipts for the month of July showing a reduction of 5 pounds as compared with the average of the arrivals for the month of June, and 13 pounds less than the average weight of the receipts for the month of July last year. The decrease in the average weight since March 1, is 3½ pounds as compared with last year's. While the receipts for the week exhibit a slight increase, they are not very large. Farmers are very busily engaged in harvesting their small grains, and have little time to attend to the forwarding of stock at present. Packers have been rather more inclined to purchase, and the movement of the week show that the increased receipts have fallen into their hands. The steadiness of the provision market has given them a little more encouragement, though the margin of profit is extremely small. The slaughtering of the week amounts to about 41,000. At the present time the manufacture is confined to cuts of meat desired for export—long and short clear sides, and shoulders. Packers are not cutting mess pork at present, though making moderate quantities of the lighter cuts—family mess, prime mess and extra prime—for which there is a good inquiry, and for which they obtain liberal prices. Lard is being produced moderately, but the quality of the hogs is not sufficiently good to make the usual average yield. The great bulk of the slaughtering at present is to provide for previously made contracts.

The packing of Chicago since the close of the winter packing season aggregates about 1,337,000 hogs, against 955,000 to date last year, and 770,000 to date in 1876. At other points in the west, packing is progressing rather slowly, and the quality of the hogs received not quite so good as during the previous month. The average weight of the hogs packed this summer in the west will probably show a material reduction as compared with the returns of last year.

Rail freights to the east rule steady, at the recent advance in the rates, the demand for freight room being fair. The current tariff as charged on shipments from Chicago to the points named.
